Bereavement Services

BC Bereavement Helpline

A non-profit, free, and confidential service that connects the public to comprehensive local and provincial grief support services within BC. It is the only free, grief-specific helpline in Canada and is a valuable resource, no matter the cause of death. As well as information and referral, volunteers provide compassionate listening by phone, Monday through Friday from 9am to 5pm

Phone: 604-738-9950 or toll free at 1-877-779-2223. Email contact@bcbh.ca.

Canadian Grief Alliance (CGA)

www.virtualhospice.ca/canadian-grief-alliance/en/who-we-are/

A group of leading grief specialists and more than 150 national and provincial organizations that are encouraging the government to adopt a proposal to address national gaps in grief services that are leaving hurting Canadians unsupported in their grief. The Helpline covers post-death grief but, for many, grief begins while watching a loved one suffer during their last days.

Bridge C-14

www.bridgec14.org

Founded on the need for access to peer-to-peer group support for those with lived MAiD experience, as well as to provide information about MAID and support to individuals considering it as an option.

MAID Family Support (formerly Bridge 4 You)

<https://maidfamilysupport.ca>

Provides compassionate, lived experience one-on-one support and connection to people helping a loved one who is considering or planning for MAID or those who are grieving a loss due to MAID.

Victoria Hospice (Victoria and area residents only) victoriahospice.org/how-we-can-help/bereavement-services/

People in Greater Victoria facing advanced stages of any progressive illness may register for Victoria Hospice care, provided that patients, family members and physicians all understand and agree that the focus of care should now be on comfort instead of cure. Typically, patients have a prognosis of 6-12 months. They can register with Victoria Hospice even before any of the services are actually required.

Phone: 250-519-3040

Email: Hospice.Bereavement@viha.ca
